

A scatter plot showing the distribution of stars in the sky. The stars are represented by black dots of varying sizes, indicating their brightness. A large, prominent star is highlighted with a thick black outline and a five-pointed star symbol. The background is white, and the overall pattern of stars follows the familiar shape of the Big Dipper constellation.

< 6.50 mag